NEUROTRANSMITTER AND PERSONALITY SELF-ASSESSMENT

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Complete all sections of the test.
2. Total up all of your X answers for each section.
3. You will receive a score for parts 1A-4A. These indicate the neurotransmitter balance that makes up your personality. If the numbers are about the same, you are a balanced personality. Numbers that are very high or low may indicate that your personality is dominated by one or more neurotransmitter paths.
4. The scores on parts 1B-4B indicate possible areas of deficiency.
5. If you score 8 or more on any part B section, you should strongly consider a consultation with our office and detailed hormone and neurotransmitter testing.
6. Do NOT try to treat any presumed neurotransmitter imbalances based on this test alone. It may result in side effects or alter the effectiveness of medications you might be taking.
7. Bring your test scores with you to your appointment in our office.
